Conserving our most precious resources

At Ontec we understand that for communities to prosper and thrive, utilities need to supply access to precious resources such as energy and water in the most cost-effective manner. We deliver value to our customers with our broad portfolio of solutions:

- We help end consumers with timely, accurate and detailed information of their household water consumption in order to raise awareness and empower them to reduce consumption for a more empowered consumer. Ontec's GaugeIT solution has resulted in a "smart evolution" in the residential market as we measure what matters to create a smarter future for all.
- We help utilities in energy and water supply to secure revenue and improve customer services via demand response and load management initiatives.
